Marine Post Hit by Heavy Artillery

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners hit the U.S.
Marine forward post at Con
Thien Wednesday with the heaviest artillery barrage in more than two months and probed a nearby Marine position with a ground attack.

In the same area just below the demilitarized zone, a Marine fighter-bomber supporting the ground troops accidentally dropped a bomb on the perimeter of American positions and added to the U.S. casualties.

The barrage of 276 rounds of artillery and mortar fire and the ground probe by an estimated company of North Vietnamese killed seven Marines and wounded 77, the U.S. Command said. The accidental bombing killed another five Leathernecks.

The Marines reported killing three North Vietnamese.
Headquarters said the artillery barrage included 60, 82 and big 620mm mortar and 85mm artillery rounds. A spokesman said it was the heaviest barrage since Sept. 25, when Communist gunners slammed more than 1,000 rounds of artillery and mortar into Con Thien, which was under virtual artillery siege during the entire month of September. The Marines suffered nearly 1,000 casualties then.

Simultaneously on Wednesday, units of the 4th Marine Regiment 2½ miles northeast of Con Thien came under a four-hour attack by an estimated company of perhaps 150 North Vietnamese who opened up with small arms, machine guns and bazooka-type rockets. Marine fighter-bombers, artillery and helicopter gunships finally drove the Communists off.

The United States countered with two raids by B52 bombers above and below Con Thien, naval gunfire from destroyers off shore and strikes by tactical fighter-bombers against the Communist gun positions and supply routes.

In one raid today, the eight-engine B52s dropped thousands of pounds of bombs on roads and military facilities 30 miles above the DMZ which feed men and supplies to the 35,000 North Vietnamese troops believed to be threatening Con Thien and other Marine outposts below the frontier.

In a second raid today, the big bombers pounded Communist buildup areas four miles west-southwest of Con Thien.

U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy jet fighters also hit scores of targets just inside North Vietnam Wednesday in a concentrated effort to cut supplies heading south to the frontier.

The Navy reported that the destroyer Leary knocked out one artillery and one mortar position and touched off two secondary explosions and a fire in the southern portion of the demilitarized zone.

Other action flared in the critical northernmost areas of South Vietnam. Communist gunners fired 35 mortar rounds into a Marine unit six miles south of Hue, the old imperial capital which is 60 miles south of the zone. Six Marines were killed and six were wounded.

said a full scale investigation would be made of Tuesday's disturbance at the University of Iowa where police used tear gas to break up a protest against Dow recruiters.

Iowa Gov. Harold Hughes said Wednesday night that "peaceful demonstrations are one thing but disruption of normal university life is another" and called for "stern disciplinary measures" against demonstrators who break the law.

The New York City demonstrations started Tuesday when 1,000 demonstrators massed and 264 deliberately had themselves arrested. They included pedagogical Dr. Benjamin Spock and poet Alan Ginsberg.

In Wednesday's protest the participants seemed less anxious to be arrested and police reported only about 40 seized during the day.

Part of the failure of the demonstration appeared to stem from the different philosophies of the 40 participating groups ranging from pacifist to mili-

After police turned back the attempt to approach the center from three different directions the demonstrators regrouped in Battery Park. Leaders were divided on the next move.

Some militants proposed an invasion of Wall Street while others argued for a march on City Hall and then peaceful dispersal.

The evident frustration was voiced by one speaker who asked: "How did we get in a position where there is only this choice of being impotent or brutalized?"

At the Waldorf, Rusk departed from his prepared text to tell some 1,200 members of the National Association of Manufacturers that what they did not see among the demonstrators outside "was a representative of Hanoi ready to talk about peace."

The greatest portion of the Soviet Union lies farther north than Minnesota.

Board Wanted Meeting to Be Secret

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Reporter Tucker Steinmetz of the Pine Bluff Commercial was affable enough when he was informed that the state Penitentiary Board was meeting in its alternate role as the state
Pardons and Parole Board Wednesday. When he was asked to leave the meeting, he left.
But then, through a flimsy partition, he heard the secretary start reading the minutes of the last state Penitentiary Board meeting.

Steinmetz re-entered the room and refused to leave. As his right to be there, he cited the state's new Freedom of Information Act. The act prohibits executive sessions held for anything except a discussion of personnel matters.

Steinmetz said some of the board members tried to represent that they were discussing personnel matters and asked him three times to leave.

"Beneficial Habits of the Blue Jay" was given by Robert Gibson and "Enemies of Our Forest" by Randy Hollis. Our leader, Mrs. Louise Crow introduced Mrs. Doyle Yocum and Mrs. Dale Flowers. They brought us many ideas for Christmas decorations and taught us how to make Santa Claus early jars. We will distribute these to the guests of the Hope Nursing Home. We were given booklets and refreshments. Mrs. Curtis Boyd is class sponsor. The Sprouts Junior Garden Club is sponsored by the Gardenia Garden Club. Reported Stan Nix.

GARDEN CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

A Christmas luncheon at the Heritage House was held by the Hope Garden Club on Wednesday, December 6 with beautiful decorations. The table centerpiece was an inverted amber glass dome with an angel holding a lighted candle surrounded by holly and green velvet ribbons.

The buffet held an attractive arrangement of Christmas flowers. This was carried later, to the Memorial Nursing Home, where a former member, Miss Mable Hirdge, resides. In the living room, the mantle held a madonna and white poinsettias.

Prior to the meal, the invocation was given by Mrs. Guy Downing. Afterwards, when the group of 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Harry M. Lemore, went into the living room, Mrs. Roy Taylor gave an inspiring message, "Let's Keep Christmas" by Peter Marshall, Club President.

Privacy Not for Daughter of President
By FRANCES LEWIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON, AP. — The President's daughter and her Marine fiancé lost a major skirmish in their battle for some privacy—their newly rented house has been discovered in a quiet Arlington, Va., neighborhood.

The Wednesday disclosure, three days before their wedding, was sure to disappoint Lynda Bird Johnson and Capt. Charles S. Robb.

Robb earlier told reporters he and his bride-to-be had rented a furnished house in the "Washington metropolitan area." But Robb said he preferred not to discuss it any further "just so that we do have some privacy."

"I think you will understand," added the 28-year-old Marine.

But it didn't take long for their secret to leak out, especially when neighbors spotted some unusual telephone installation going on at 3536 Valley St.

The house, located in a cul de sac development—one of a cluster of 15 homes, reportedly in about the $50,000 range—is an L-shaped, ranch-style dwelling.

The couple had planned to live there for a brief time until Robb reports March 29 to Camp Pendleton, Calif., on his way to a year's duty in Vietnam.

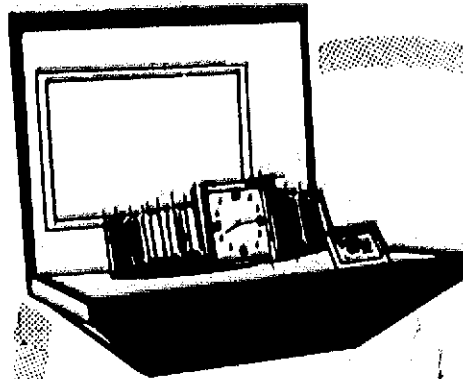

The First Family was saddened by the death Wednesday night of pastry chef Clement Maggia, 74, who had been in the process of completing a 6-foot tall, 250-pound wedding cake.

Maggia died of a heart attack after dining with his wife and relatives at a Washington hotel.

San Diego State Tops Final Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
San Diego State and Kentucky Wesleyan are vying for the leading small-college basketball position vacated by Southern Illinois. But dark horse Southwestern Louisiana seems to be making a big pitch.

The Bulldogs from Lafayette, La. have beaten major opponents North Texas State and Baylor in their two starts this season, and are ninth in The Associated Press' first poll of the 1967-68 campaign.

San Diego State heads the ranking teams followed in order by Kentucky Wesleyan, Indiana State, Trinity, Tex., Akron, Evansville, Cheyney State, Winston-Salem, SW Louisiana and Long Island University.

Southern Illinois, the leader in the final small-college poll and the National Invitation Tournament winner last year, was given major-college designation by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association this season on the strength of its tougher schedule.

In the initial voting by a national panel of 12 sports writers and broadcasters, San Diego State drew three first-place votes and 52 points. The balloting, based on games through last Saturday, was on a point basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-7-etc basis:

1. San Diego St. (3) 52
2. Kentucky Wesleyan (1) 46
3. Indiana State (1) 37
4. Trinity, Tex. (1) 31
5. Akron 30
6. Evansville 29
7. Cheyney State 28
8. Winston-Salem 25

Lamonica Is AFL Player of the Week

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Darryle Lamonica, who labored in the shade for an awful long time, is enjoying his moment in the sun.

A backseat quarterback for four frustrating seasons at Buffalo, Lamonica has emerged from the shadows and has led the Oakland Raiders to the threshold of their first Western Division title in the American Football League.

In a showdown with San Diego for the Western lead last Sunday, Lamonica gunned the Raiders to a 42-21 victory, completing 21 of 34 passes for 349 yards and four touchdowns. The performance made Lamonica The Associated Press' choice as AFL Offensive Player of the Week.

Hope Teams to Host Bodcaw

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

As you saw through yesterday's illustrations, last Tuesday night the Lady Cats and the Bobcats pulled through with victories over Prescott, while the Bobkittens lost in the other game.

Everyone can't stay well all the time, and this writer took up his sick hitch two evenings ago, thus missing most of the action out at Jones Field House.

With things coming back to normal now, though, the roundballers return to the HHS court this p.m. for three games with Bodcaw.

The Jr. Girls play in the first game at 6:00, followed by the Lady Cats and the "B" Boys games. Coach Charlotte Gibson's Jr. Girls are still looking for their first win, and tonight may be the night. As for the Lady Cats, they must have really opened up in the second half against Prescott, taking it 61-38 after leading 32-23 at half-time.

This will be the "B" Lizards' second outing, losing 51-50 to Cale in their opener. Coach Joe Austin has commented that the Cats' defense is looking better, and also that free throw accuracy has been obtained in many a basketball game.

My apologies go to Bobcat Wayne Norvell, who was reported Monday to be the only local player not scoring in the 61-39 Ashdown win. Wayne actually tallied seven points, but his performance was somehow overlooked in checking the scorebooks. We'll try not to let that happen again.

Remember to come out and support Hope High basketball at Jones Field House tonight for the three games, with the Jr. Girls tip-off set for 6:00 p.m. Your attendance and backing is greatly appreciated.

Beaty Putting Wings on the Soaring Hawks

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Zelmo Beaty has the bounce back in his knee and he's putting wings on the soaring St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association.

The 6-foot-9 center from Prairie View A&M College says he is "not even concerned about the knee now." Beaty missed 33 games last year when he underwent an operation on ligaments in his right knee. He came back to play in 48 games and had the second best scoring average of his career, but admitted the knee gave him concern, mentally and physically.

"I think I had a mental problem after that," the Hawks' "Big Z" admitted. "I was probably afraid the knee would give way, though I had been reassured by the doctor that it wouldn't."

"And the knee would get sore after each game last year. I had to have a sort of dithering treatment on it. The only problem I have with it now is a minor sprain, and that's not associated with the operation."

A year later Beaty, 27, is peppering the basket at a 22.3 average, highest of his six-year NBA career. And the Hawks are leading the Western Division with a 22-7 mark.

Beaty, who scored a career high 42 points against Seattle Sunday, credits teammate Lennox Wilkens with helping him become the club's top scorer.

"I got the ball a lot from Lennox. Probably two-thirds of my points come off Wilkens' passes," Zelmo observed. "He knows where I want to go and what I want to do. If he doesn't get the ball in to me, then I know it's just not coming."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No football player at UCLA will wear the number "16" again.

Chancellor Franklin D. Murphy announced at the Bruins' football banquet Monday night that the jersey, worn by Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban has been retired.

Mel Daniels scored five straight points in overtime to give the Muskies their road win.

Erv Hinniger got Minnesota the tie at the end of regulation time with 14 fourth-period points.

Bob Netolicky's basket in overtime gave the Pacers their road victory after the Colonels had tied the game at the end of the fourth period on Randy Mahaffay's basket with four seconds left.

Steve Chubin's 28 points led the Amigos to their road triumph. Anaheim scored 40 points in the third period to break the game open.

17,000 See Louisville Take Kansas

By TED MEIER

Westley Unseld appears headed for his greatest season in college basketball.

The 6-foot-8 All-America for the University of Louisville got the key baskets and the key rebounds in leading the Cardinals to a 57-51 victory over the Kansas Jayhawks Wednesday night.

A sellout 17,000 turned out at Lawrence, Kan., for the battle between the nationally third-ranked Cardinals and the fourth-ranked Jayhawks that headlined a busy night on the college hardwoods.

Unseld threw in 20 points, the same total as his teammate Butch Beard, but it was Unseld's free throw with 6:12 left that put Louisville ahead to stay at 45-44.

"While Beard meant a lot in the stretch," said Louisville Coach John Dromie, "the guy who was the real difference was Unseld. He got the key buckets and particularly the key rebound when we needed it. I thought our zone defense was fabulous in the clutch."

Jo-Jo White's layup put Kansas within 47-46, but as Owens put it "Louisville had the poise and the patience to make the plays when it mattered."

Fourth-ranked North Carolina and ninth-ranked Kentucky, the other teams in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, enjoyed home court romps.

Larry Miller's 24 points led North Carolina over Kent State, despite a 41-point performance by Kent's Doug Grayson. Kentucky overwhelmed Xavier of Ohio 111-76 behind Phil Argento's 23 points for Coach Adolph Rupp's 363rd career victory. Rupp needs only nine to break the all-time record of 371 held by the retired Phog Allen of Kansas.

Duke, led by Steve Vandenberg's 23 points, crushed Michigan at Ann Arbor 93-72, but West Virginia pulled out a 65-63 home court triumph over St. John's of New York when Jim Lewis tallied three points in the last 48 seconds to erase a 63-62 Redmen lead.

In other major games Virginia Tech edged Wake Forest 71-67, Arkansas U. beat Navy 63-59, Cornell whipped Syracuse 88-70, Georgetown, D.C., upset St. Joseph's Pa. 86-74, Penn Nipped Rutgers 71-70, Army squeaked past Seton Hall 74-70, Yale overcame Fordham 84-73, Tulsa humbled North Dakota State 88-55, Oklahoma City defeated Southern Methodist 90-73 and Niagara Swamped Villa Madonna 114-66 behind 57 points by soph Calvin Murphy in his second varsity game.

North Carolina State downed Maryland 75-62, New Mexico whipped Pepperdine 93-58, Utah State downed Montana State 88-80, Chicago Loyola routed Eastern Michigan 102-78 and California rallied from 10 points back to beat St. Mary's Gaels 76-69.

Minnesota, Indiana Fight for ABA Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minnesota and Indiana, fighting for the lead in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division, both had to work overtime to maintain the status quo Wednesday night.

The Muskies, ahead of the Pacers by one-half game, beat New Orleans 119-113 in overtime. Indiana also had to play an extra period before defeating Kentucky 100-97.

In the only other ABA game, Anaheim crushed Houston 124-100.

In the National Basketball Association, Los Angeles beat Baltimore 136-125, Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 108-107, Boston nipped New York 115-113 and Detroit downed Chicago 135-121.

Mel Daniels scored five straight points in overtime to give the Muskies their road win. Erv Hinniger got Minnesota the tie at the end of regulation time with 14 fourth-period points.

Says Object Is Only to Win Games

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Our objective is to win. We're not building for the future. The only year we're concerned about is 1967. What good is it to have all young men of promise, like Kansas City's pitching staff, if you finish last?"

George Allen, coach of the Los Angeles Rams, spoke these words last August, before the National Football League season had started (and also before Kansas City's Athletics had moved to Oakland).

Allen's Rams came up to the first of two big games Saturday afternoon. If they don't beat Green Bay at the Coliseum, they can just about forget it for 1967. If the Rams lose, Baltimore can lock up the Coastal Division Sunday by beating New Orleans.

But a win for the Rams over the Packers would leave it all up to the Baltimore at Los Angeles game on the final day of the season, Dec. 17.

Everybody talks about the Rams' defense but that offensive line-up can't be overlooked. With Les Josephson and Dick Bass running the ball; plus occasional spot duty by ex-Viking Tommy Mason, the Rams rank No. 2 in the league in rushing offense.

Bernie Casey has been a tremendous help to Los Angeles, catching 43 passes and scoring six touchdowns. The former San Francisco 49er, who was traded to Atlanta during the off season back has been tossed for a loss only 19 times in 12 games and he has thrown 436 passes, an average of 36 plus passes a game. . . . Baltimore's passer has been smeared only 16 times but John Unitas has thrown only 381 times.

Jurgensen's percentage of completions, 59.4 on 269 of 438, his yardage, 3,373, touchdown passes, 29, and percentage of interceptions, 2.7, are the best in the NFL. If any passer ever had three receivers running 1-2-3 in the league standings it is news to this corner. Sonny has Charley Taylor, Jerry Smith and Bobby Mitchell as the top three receivers.

Clint Jones and Bubba Smith, Michigan State's two big stars of last year, are spear carriers in the NFL as rookies. Jones has carried only 12 times for 16 yards for the Minnesota Vikings but is the big man on kickoff returns. Smith rides the bench at Baltimore because Billy Ray, Smith, 32, is having a big year at defensive tackle.

George Webster, the Michigan State defense ace, is doing a great job at linebacker for Houston's contending Oilers in the AFL.

Dickey Ranks High in Grid Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Keyes of Purdue led major-college football players in scoring during the 1967 season and O.J. Simpson of Southern California lead in rushing, according to statistics released today by the NCAA.

Keyes scored 19 touchdowns for 114 points, 17 more than the next closest runner, Poland Moss of Toledo, and Dave Dickey of Arkansas. Simpson gained 1,415 yards—rushing on 29 carries, Eugene Morris of West Texas State was second with 1,274 yards and Max Anderson of Arizona State was third with 1,183 yards.

New Look At Child Development Toys

Did it ever occur to you the importance of toys in a child's education? Creative play is essential to the normal development of mind and body. A "child's work" is an apt description, with toys the "tools" of his apprenticeship. Make-believe experiences subtly "teach" and prepare him for real life.

Learning involves seeing, doing, exploring, experimenting, questioning. A child may appear fickle in his seemingly endless change of interests, yet he's not necessarily wasteful. Persistence develops with time. Fluctuation of activity indicates an inquiring mind and develops lasting interests.

Toys are as old as civilization. Dolls were known in the 18th Century B. C. Early in Christian Europe, dolls resembled saints, ancestors of our Christmas nativity scenes. Figures of animals and representations of the manger followed. The educational value of these early toys is obvious.

In the 19th Century hand made toys gave way to industrial manufacturing. Many materials were used from cast iron to hard wax. Toys reflect an association with the familiar. A 19th Century horse drawn cart replica of heavy (yet breakable) iron was a forerunner of our modern light weight and virtually indestructible steel scale model cars and trucks. An example is this finely detailed Bronco Truck and Horse Trailer by Nylint.

Toys. Authentic moving parts stimulate the budding mechanic or design engineer while two "thoroughbreds" gallop off with his imagination to lush pastures of creative educational play.

Toy manufacturers deserve a lot of credit for their contribution to child development. From dolls to figures of domestic and exotic jungle animals from doll houses to model cars and construction equipment the child learns by "putting himself in the picture". He watches a huge Michigan Shovel operate; his scale model, reflecting the manufacturer's meticulous research and attention to detail, shows him the principles of design. How, why, what it does. He wants to learn more. He reads, reasons, observes, grows mentally and physically.

Sabin, Collier Will Coach Star Teams

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Lou Sabin, twice Coach of the Year in the American Football League, and his former assistant who succeeded him at Buffalo Joe Collier, will coach rival teams in the AFL All-Star game Jan. 21 at Jacksonville.

They were named Wednesday by Mild Woodward, AFL president. Players for the two teams will be named in about 10 days.

Sabin, 45, was Coach of the Year in 1964 and 1965 when he led the Buffalo Bills to league championships. He left the pro ranks for one year as head coach at the University of Maryland but returned this season as coach of the Denver Broncos.

Collier, 35, succeeded Sabin as Buffalo coach in 1966. He had been an assistant to Sabin at Buffalo and before that at Western Illinois University.

Heyman Signs New Contract for $15,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Heyman, the college basketball Player of the Year when he played for Duke in 1963, signed a contract calling for $15,000 a year with the New Jersey Americans of the American Basketball Association.

Judge Walter R. Mansfield made this disclosure in federal court Wednesday when he denied the request of the Hartford, Conn., Capitals of the Eastern League for an injunction to keep Heyman from playing in the ABA.

Heyman, who played his first pro ball with the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association, recently was traded by the Americans to the Pittsburgh Pipers of the ABA.

Judge Mansfield said Heyman had a contract with Hartford for the 1967 season that called for $175 a game with a club option to renew. He averaged 33 points per game and became "Hartford's Darling", Judge Mansfield said.

Last March, when Heyman learned that the new ABA was organizing for its first season, Judge Mansfield wrote that the "fickle hero" signed to play for the Americans for $15,000.

In May, Hartford offered Heyman a raise to $200 per game, estimated that he would earn between $9,550 and $8,500 plus a job as an insurance agent.

In his opinion Judge Mansfield wrote that he denied the injunction because "the terms of the provisions of this contract are too harsh and one-sided to permit equitable enforcement."

Congress Is Now Just Marking Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is one of the strangest moments in American history, a marking-time moment.

To see Congress do a half-baked job, as it has done in 1967, the year before a presidential election year, is not unusual. In the past it could be taken to mean energies were being reserved for what lay ahead.

But more than the upcoming election is on the American mind now and Congress is reflecting a national condition, like holding the breath before making a move, even though this country is up to its neck in war, which is an active thing.

The nation seems to be waiting to see how the Vietnamese war turns out before using its enormous vitality for its chores and its housework. The war is the root of the present condition.

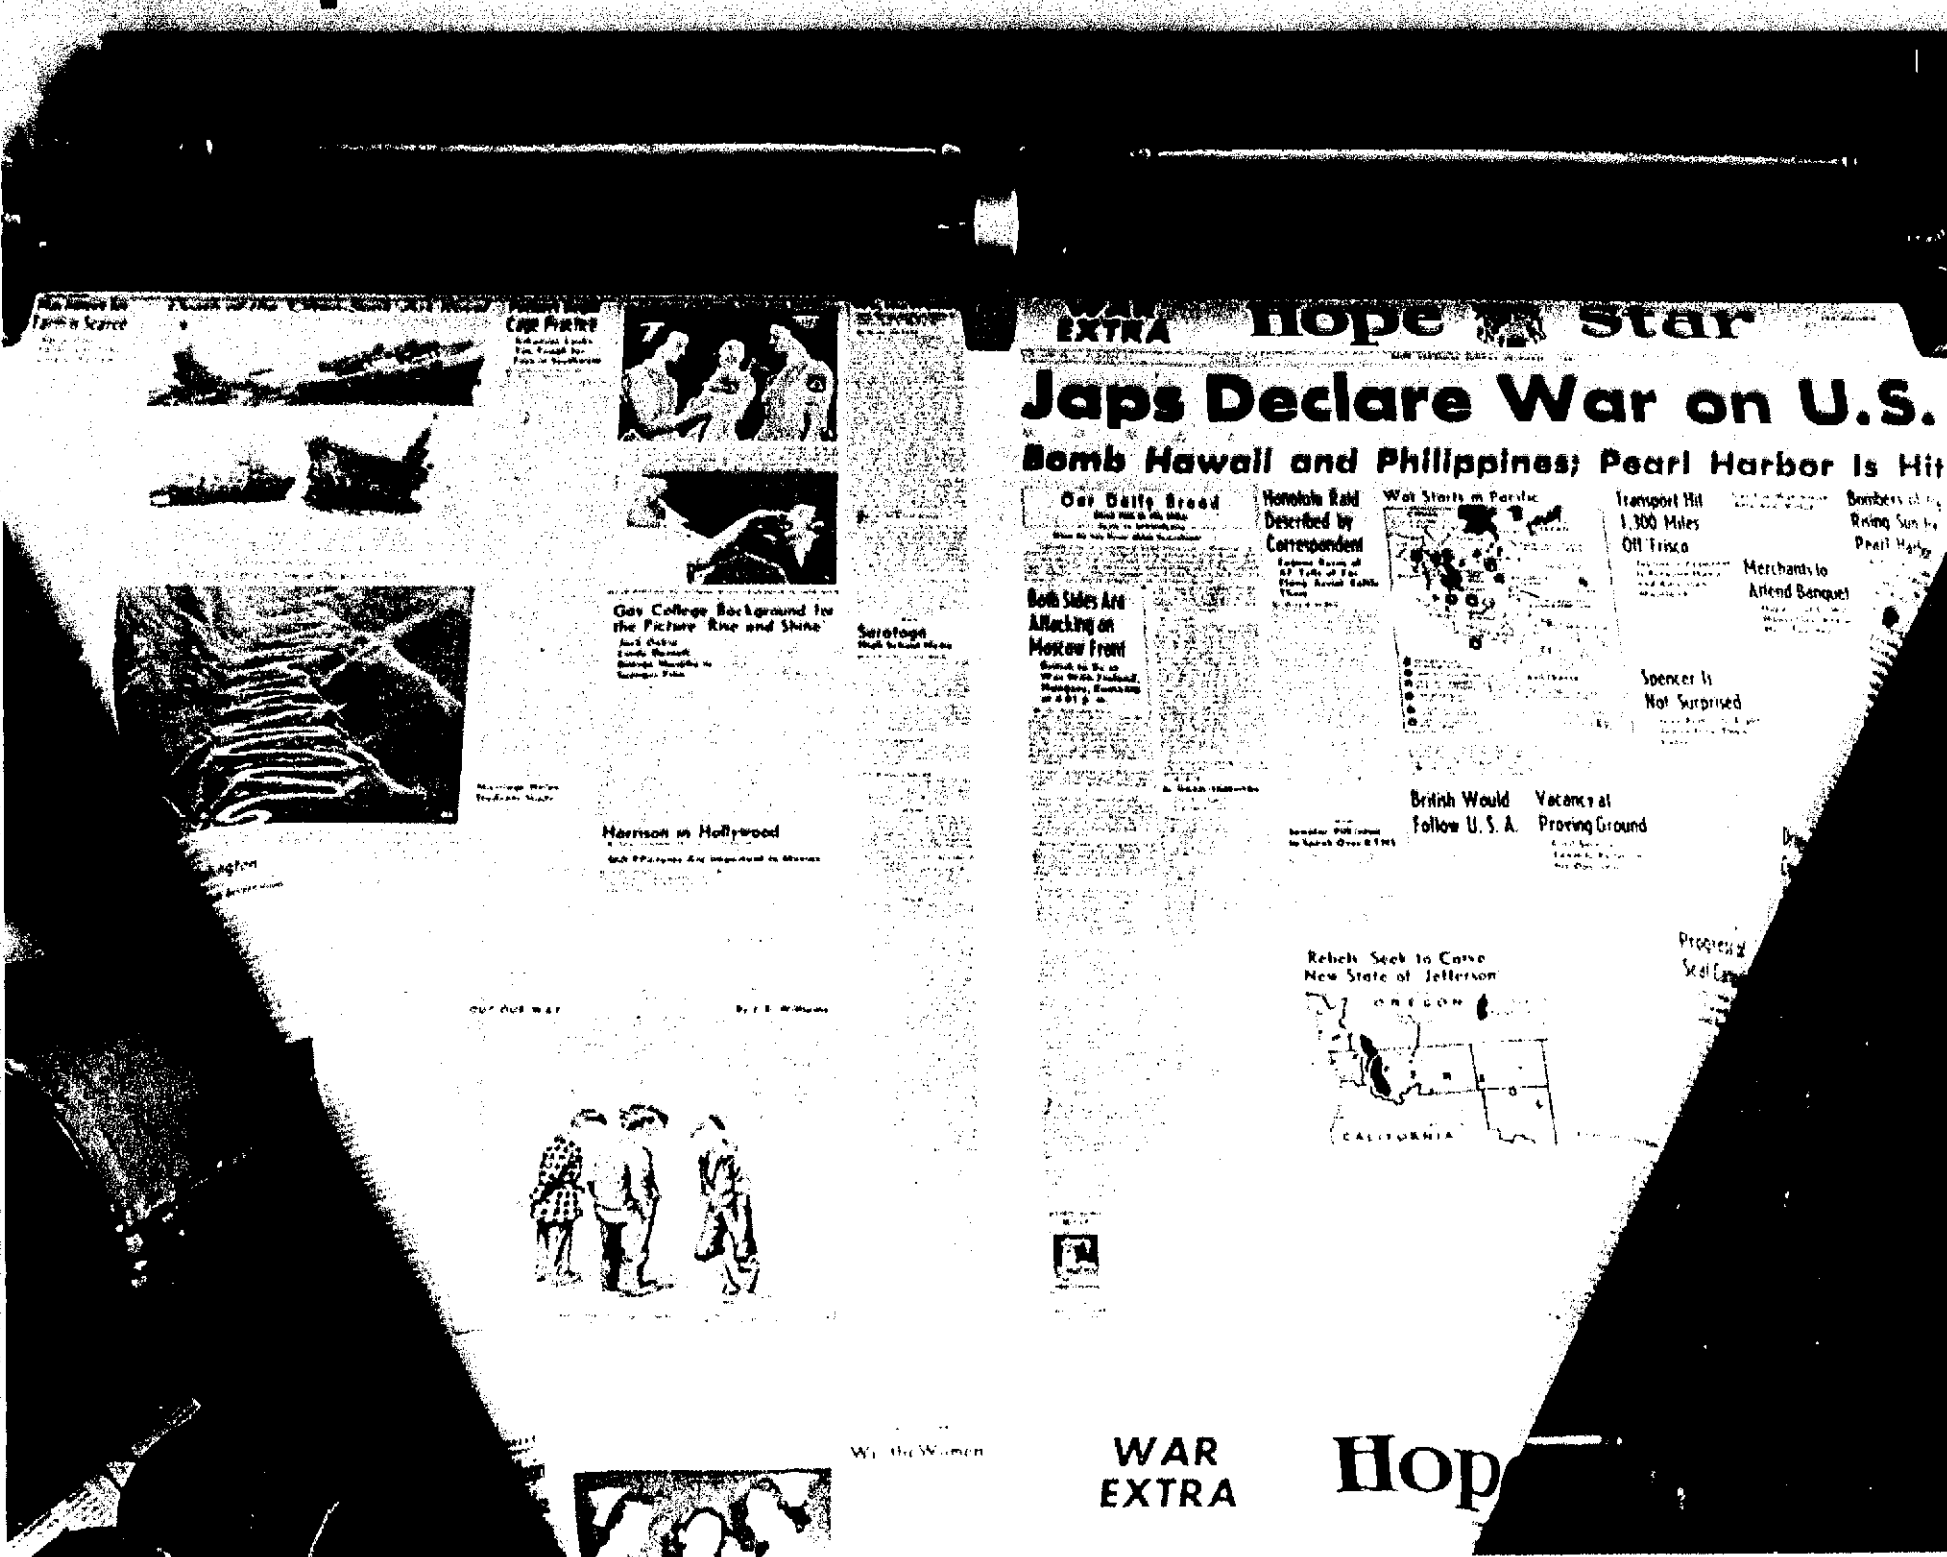

America is pretty well divided into hawks and doves on the war. The hawks at least know what they want, which is to force the North Vietnamese to stop their aggression.

But the doves are a mentally mottled crew. Few seem to have any clear idea, thought through, on how to settle the war without creating vast new problems for the United States or the people of Southeast Asia if the United States pulls out or makes fatal concessions in order to get out.

Yet, the end is nowhere in sight for hawks or doves, despite the optimistic pronouncements of the Johnson administration. This by itself is baffling for both sides.

But one thing is clear: Their concern with the war—in some cases their obsession with it—diverts their interest and energies from far-reaching and constructive efforts for the problems at home.

Flow of Foreign Steel Into U.S. Adding to Industry's Problem

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There's a steady and growing flow of foreign steel into the United States adding to the problems of the nation's steel industry.

The shipments are coming from 12 nations. Some of the countries are hardly considered steel-producing nations, for instance, Costa Rica, British Guiana and the Dominican Republic.

Five Communist-ruled nations are on the list: Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Lithuania.

If you live in a home built recently, chances are good the nails came from Japan. Japan leads all other nations in exporting steel to America.

Until a decade ago, this country exported more steel than it imported. The situation was reversed in 1959, and since then, foreign producers have steadily increased imports to America.

Last year, imports hit a record 10.7 million tons, 11 per cent of U.S. steel consumption. Imports in the first nine months of this year ran 3 per cent ahead of last year.

The current steel price increase in this country, fear has been expressed by some that higher domestic prices may push up imports.

Industry people say import tonnage will go up, but not because U.S. prices are going up. They say foreign prices will increase right along with domestic prices, and assert that any stepup in imports will be caused by worldwide economic factors which led to substantial foreign imports in the first place.

Wednesday, U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steelmaker, and second-ranked Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced their second price hike in a week. U.S. Steel went up $5 a ton on galvanized and aluminum coated sheets, and Bethlehem went up $5 a ton on galvanized sheets.

Last Friday, U.S. Steel boosted its price on cold rolled sheets, and a number of other producers, including Bethlehem followed suit.

Foreign producers are able to carve deeper inroads in the American market for the simple reason they can make steel cheaper because of lower labor costs.

"The Japanese could undersell us by $40 a ton if they wanted to," one Pittsburgh steel executive said.

But foreigners are having profit problems, too. A number of foreign steelmakers are getting subsidies from their governments just to keep above water.

"But the last thing any wife wants for Christmas is anything that's practical. I'm buying my wife a silk evening stole decorated with rhinestones hand-painted by a noted artist who once shook hands with Picasso."

So, on the last shopping day before Christmas, you hasten to the department store. They don't have any rhinestone-studded silk evening stoles. Paolo grabs you.

microscopic union of two cells, learning what was its own, and what was not. To this genetic understanding, it owed its survival. As it was beset by virus and bacteria, or even such small things as wooden splinters, it dealt with them on one basis: They did not belong they must be disposed of.

The body is a complex system with many weapons for self-defense. It produces antibodies—tiny, carefully designed bits of protein that can pursue and capture and neutralize the protein-coated viruses that threaten health. It produces certain white blood cells to chase down and dissolve bacteria and other body invaders. These cells have still other means of producing immunity to disease, mysterious means that science has not been able to pinpoint.

These weapons that protect a person from his microscopic enemies also trouble him. Antibodies are produced against even harmless invaders, and sometimes the antibodies sensitize a person to harmless, common elements—pollen, dust, the hair of a dog. So it is with transplants, lungs and hearts. This danger follows all transplants.

Doctors now use powerful drugs and radiation to suppress the body's immunity mechanism and forestall rapid rejection of new organs. But this leaves the patient vulnerable to infection, and he must be protected by antibiotics and sterile techniques.

So Louis Washkansky lived his first days under the eye of doctors and nurses alert for signs of rejection. As a guard against infection he lived in an oxygen tent.

His operation was the world's first transplant of a human heart. In past years, doctors have transplanted 600 kidneys from one person to another, and a number of lungs and spleens.

LBJ Mixing Pitches for Tax Program

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson continues to mix the tried and true with the totally unexpected—like making another anti-inflation pitch to business leaders after breaking tradition to give the press a rare peek at a Cabinet meeting.

The President's orthodox economic sentiments were delivered at an off-the-record dinner meeting of the prestigious Business Council, composed of about 190 leaders of the biggest industrial and financial corporations. His text was made public later.

Johnson gave the public a second-hand look at a formal Cabinet meeting earlier Wednesday by admitting three reporters and permitting them to take complete notes and report their findings. The reporters weren't shoofed out until Director Richard Helms of the Central Intelligence Agency began briefing the Cabinet on latest national security developments.

In his speech to the Business Council, Johnson coupled his anti-inflation plea with a new attack on trade protectionists, a call for expanded exports, an appeal for voluntary business efforts to promote a healthy balance of payments and some pointed remarks about a recent attack on the dollar by speculators.

Johnson said the speculative attack has been "decisively repelled" but added "we cannot rest on this victory."

He declared "we must look beyond gold" to the kind of supplementary monetary reserves agreed on in September by most non-Communist nations.

The reserves needed to finance expanding world trade, he said, "need not rest on the uncertainties of gold production, consumption and speculation."

His wage-price appeal was a familiar one: Labor should "restrain its demands for excessive wage increases" and business should "refrain from avoidable price increases" and "intensify its competitive efforts."

As for import restrictions, Johnson said the race for trade cannot be won if the United States is "confronted by the quotas or high tariff walls the protectionists demand."

At the Cabinet meeting, Chairman John W. Macy of the civil Service Commission reported on efforts to make it easier for citizens to do business with their government.

When Macy said some agencies are staying open Saturdays and one evening a week, the President wanted to know how much this was costing.

Not much, Macy replied.

When Macy said a determined effort is being made to get businessmen to answer their mail more promptly, the Chief "see-

Specialists Winning Cage Court Battles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The up-and-coming young firm of Bing, Counts, Jones and Cunningham—specialists in the blazing finish—won courtroom battles all over the staid old National Basketball Association Wednesday night.

Everywhere, nice, quiet, predictable games were moving into the fourth quarter when suddenly things began to happen.

Dave Bing scored 15 points in the final period, leading Detroit to a 135-121 victory over Chicago. Mel Counts pumped in 15 in the fourth quarter as Los Angeles overtook Baltimore 136-125.

Sam Jones got 12 in the fourth period, sparking Boston's 115-113 squeaker over New York. And Billy Cunningham threw in 15 in the final period in Philadelphia's 108-107 comeback over Baltimore.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana edged Kentucky 100-97 in overtime. Anaheim crushed Houston 124-100 and Minnesota beat New Orleans 119-113 in overtime.

The Pistons got 44 points in the final period and moved within 2½ games of Boston, which leads in the Eastern Division by one-half game over Philadelphia. In all, Bing got 40 points, Bob Boozer topped Chicago with 30.

The Lakers were trailing the Bulls by 16 points with less than 10 minutes to play when they went on a spree, outscoring Baltimore 20-4 in the next 6½ minutes with Counts leading the way. He finished with 26 points and Jerry West had 32. Jack Martin's 27 points led Baltimore.

The Knicks earned a precarious lead over the Celtics into the opening minutes of the final period when Jones began to hit. He finished with 27 points as did Bailey Howell. Cazzie Russell and Willis Reed had 25 for New York.

The 76ers didn't move ahead for good until with a little more than 10 minutes left and, even after Cunningham's contribution, they had to survive a last-ditch rally by the Royals. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati topped the scorers with 31 points while Walt Chamberlain led the 76ers with 25.

Justice Boyd Is the Lone Dissenter

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ordered State Police Director Lynn Davis freed from jail without bond Wednesday pending a review of the legal proceedings that had kept him there almost 24 hours.

Associate Justice Conley Byrd was the lone dissenter in the 6-1 decision, which followed a 10-minute hearing held one hour after the court received a petition for Davis' release.

Davis' attorneys, furnished by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, were given 10 days in which to file a brief explaining why the court should quash Circuit Judge William J. Kirby's contempt citation against Davis.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris instructed Pulaski Circuit Court to provide a record of the proceedings in Kirby's court.

Kirby ordered Davis jailed Tuesday after holding him in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions concerning the source of information that led to gambling raids here Sept. 3.

Prosecutor Richard B. Adkisson argued against Davis' release, contending that unless Davis were forced to name his informant, the Pulaski County Grand Jury would have only "two telephones, an adding machine and scratch pads" as evidence in a gambling investigation.

Davis contended that he had refused to tell the Grand Jury and Judge Kirby the name of his informant because he had done so, it would have (1) jeopardized the life and property of his informant, (2) caused similar confidential sources to disappear and (3) caused law enforcement irreplaceable harm by drying up such sources.

The 33-year-old State Police director, who is serving without pay because of another legal hassle, said he felt certain the Supreme Court would uphold him.

At a news conference later in the day, Rockefeller said he was glad to have Davis "back in the fold."

"I'm delighted to have an amiable director of State Police," the governor said.

He said he had attended a Republican Party meeting in Harrison Tuesday night, after Davis was jailed, and had found that "People up there couldn't believe it. There is righteous indignation on the part of many of our people," he said.

Rockefeller said he hoped the situation would be resolved so that it would "keep the peace out of jail, too."

He referred to Kirby's falling last winter of two seasons ago refused to reveal the source of information from which they wrote stories about an attempt

December 7, 1941 the Star got out an extra edition when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. The front page of that edition is shown on the Star's old flatbed Duplex press which is no longer a part of the plant's equipment since converting to offset printing with completely new presses. No Decision on Head of Penitentiary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and the state Penitentiary Board fought to a draw Wednesday during a three-hour, closed-door battle over a replacement for state Prison Supt. C. E. Bishop.

Rockefeller later described the meeting in his office as "totally harmonious," but he conceded that there had been a request for resignations from one or more of the board members.

John H. Haley of Little Rock, the governor's only appointee on the five-man board, said he had suggested the resignations.

Rockefeller said the four board members present at the meeting had told him they had commitments to associates and friends that made it impossible for them to resign at this time.

Board Chairman Jeff D. Wood of Cabot said the state senators and representatives in his legislative districts had instructed him not to resign.

Thomas O. Murton, assistant state prison superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm, was Rockefeller's choice for the job that Bishop is resigning as of Dec. 31.

The board apparently had no particular person in mind, but appeared hopeful that Bishop could remain on the job until a successor could be hired.

The only other known applicant, John R. Price, an assistant superintendent at Cummins Prison Farm, apparently was unacceptable to either the board or the governor.

Wood, Grady Woolley of El Dorado and L. M. Green of Siloam Springs had said before the meeting that they didn't want Murton to have the job, E. Jeter of Wabbaseka, Jefferson County, who hasn't attended meetings in recent months, was absent.

The three who opposed Murton said last week that while he had done a good job since taking over at Tucker last spring, they didn't think he had the experience to handle the job.

Man With New Heart Still Doing Fine

By KENNETH L. WHITING Associated Press Writer

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky left his sterilized room today for the first time since the historic transplant operation four days ago, replaced his failing heart with a healthy one.

Washkansky, in the second day of a week-long critical period during which his body may attempt to reject the alien heart, was wheeled on a bed more than a quarter of a mile through Groote Schuur Hospital to the radiotherapy department for a cobalt treatment intended to prevent rejection.

He was returned to his room 40 minutes later. He received cobalt treatments in his room Tuesday and Wednesday from a heavily built portable radiation device.

Until today, the 55-year-old whitehead grocer had been kept isolated in an oxygen tent because the radiation and drugs designed to overcome the body's tendency to reject foreign substances also leave him more susceptible to infection.

Doctors said there has been no sign so far of "immunological rejection" of the heart transplanted Sunday from a 25-year-old woman killed in an auto crash, but they kept a minute-by-minute watch on the patient.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the team that operated, told newsmen Wednesday he believed Washkansky's body still continued to accept the new heart.

Washkansky's new heart had been kept in liquid for the week, but Dr. Barnard said the patient may go home in three weeks if he keeps up steadily improvement. He said Washkansky would be better off at home because "the patient's whole genetic background and the chance of infection would consequently be greater."

Washkansky's appetite was "on the good" today, a hospital spokesman said, after breakfast on Tuesday and after eating minced chicken and mashed potatoes Wednesday.

In New York, a 22-member medical team carried out the world's second reported human heart transplant Monday but the heart inserted into the breast of a 21-year-old boy stopped after 6½ hours.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

BOOST OF THE MONTH GOES TO POST OFFICE AND TEEN WRITERS

Dear Helen: Have you ever noticed how few people get a telephone number right the first time you say it to them? If I tell somebody my phone number to write down, I'm practically always asked to repeat it, maybe, even several times.

So I thought, for a "different" English theme, I'd do a study on how people can't follow instructions. Maybe you can help me, please?

Judging from your letters, who would you say are more careless about addresses, etc., the teens or the adults?—RESEARCHER

Dear Researcher: I've never done a survey on this interesting subject but one thing is sure: the teens use zip code numbers whereas adults are still likely to shrug them off. In fact, one 13-year-old remembered my zip code but omitted almost everything else. Her letter addressed to "Helen, S.O.S., California, 95822" arrived with no delays... (and let's have it loud and strong for the Post Office Department who hardly ever hears words of praise.)

Also, I've had an opportunity lately to compare teen vs. adult attention to detail. When I offered my "What Is A Boyfriend, Girlfriend" series to anyone sending a stamped addressed envelope, young people complied, but the elders forgot envelopes about one-third of the time. (And that's why you didn't get your copy, my supply was running short. Try me again now that I have a new batch.)

As for SOS buttons orders, I'm completely amazed at how well you kids have followed instructions. Only five or six teens out of the thousands and thousands who are responding have forgotten their zip codes or their names, BUT I had a letter yesterday from a mother who ordered three buttons for her children—and provided no address!

Yes, unofficially, I'd say my teen correspondents follow instructions somewhat better than do the adults. What with school, parents tests and all, they have more practice!

Dear Helen: I'm taking piano lessons and I'm disgusted. Before I started last month, I was able to play a lot of tunes. My mother taught me. Now I have to play one finger junk, like "Mary Had A Little Lamb."

Why can't I go ahead from where I was?—LAURIE

Dear Laurie: For the same reason a one-finger hunt and peck typist can't "take off from where he was" when he starts typing lessons. You must learn it the right way—but cheer up: you'll advance faster because you have the feel of the piano.—H.

Dear Helen: I'm so flat I'm thinking of having "Front" tattooed on my chest. Would I be silly to start saving my money for a "filler" operation? I've read that surgeons can safely put sacks of a plastic material near the breastbone so you look like a real woman — YOUNG SECRETARY

Dear Secretary: Of course you wouldn't be silly to save your money for a future goal. It's very possible that you may change your goal—somehow "lacks" become less important when you know they needn't last forever—but then you'll have a nestegg for another project.

P.S. It's true the plastic breast insertion operation is approved medically. However, it's expensive, and, as with all plastic surgery, must be paid for in advance; is usually not covered by Health Insurance, and often cannot even be deducted from your income tax.—H.

How To Keep 'Em In Comfort Down On The Farm . . .

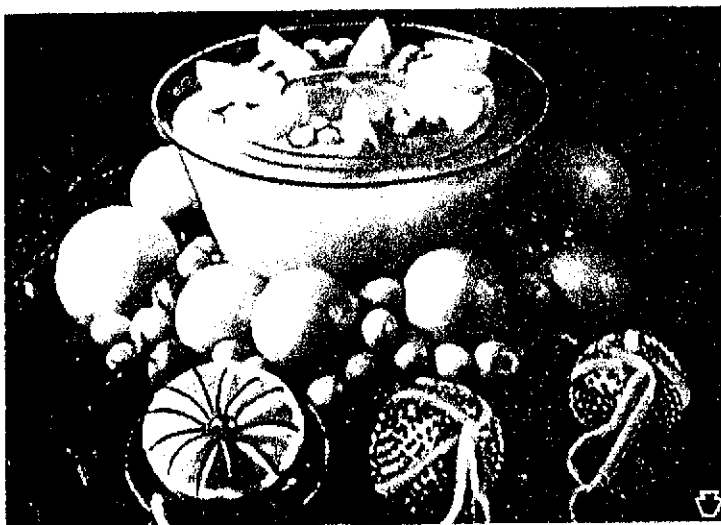

with the new Model 997 Blower naturally from the Mobile Products Division of Hupp Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio.

The new blower unit, designed for farm vehicles with enclosed cabs, circulates 230 CFM of fresh outside air to keep cabs clean and free from dust and dirt. Twin louvers provide directional control of air.

Featuring a heavy-duty motor and a 4" diameter blower wheel, the Model 997 Blower measures 9 1/2" high, 9" wide, and 9 3/4" deep. Two-speed operation is controlled by a convenient switch mounted on the dash.

The Model 997 Blower can be combined with any standard heater to produce a complete climate-control package for farm vehicles.

To Wish You A Merry Christmas

CHRISTMAS WREATH PUNCH

6 cans (6 oz. each) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate undiluted
1/2 cups light corn syrup
5 quarts ginger ale, chilled
1/4 cup lime juice

Combine orange juice concentrate, corn syrup, lime juice. Mix thoroughly. Just before serving, add ginger ale and ice ring. YIELD: About 50 1/2 cup servings.

CHRISTMAS ICE RING

Fill a 6-cup ring mold 3/4 full with water. Freeze. Alternate Florida orange wedges, peeled side down, with red and green maraschino cherries (3 in each group) on top of ice. Add thin layer of water. Freeze 30 minutes. At party, cut ring and cherries are firmly in place. Simply add water to top, freeze. To unmold, run warm water on sides of mold.

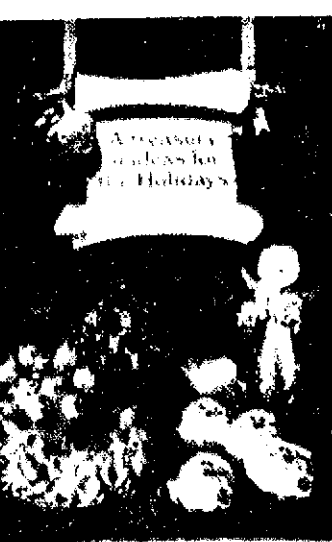

POINSETTIA GRAPEFRUIT HALVES

Ideal light dessert to top off heavy holiday meals. Leave red peel on apple, cut in thin wedge-shaped slices, cut each in half. Press slices between grapefruit sections to resemble poinsettia with a cherry or grape in center.

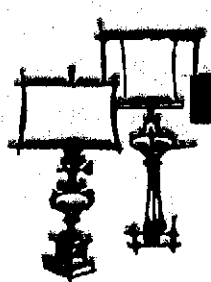

POMANDER BALES

Select firm, medium-sized Florida oranges. With fork prongs make rows of holes in the peel, one end to the other. Stick cloves into holes, close together as possible and orange in small bowl in equal parts of ground cinnamon andorris root (buy at drug store). Sprinkle additional cinnamon andorris to cover the whole orange. Tie with ribbon to hang in closet or wrap in tissue.

Holiday happenings will be accompanied by a collection of when you serve any of the treats contained in a pull-out and keep booklet in the December issue of The Reader's Digest. This treasury of holiday recipes has a Christmas cornucopia — food ideas from some of America's great companies. Included are such treats as cream wafers, trim-a-tree dip, cherry glaze, Christmas wreath punch, wild rice holiday casserole, festive fudge, and a hundred-year-old recipe for fruitcake. Above is one of the recipes.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Progress of Glaucoma Checked by Eye Drops

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q-What is glaucoma? A-It is a disease of the eye in which the tension within the eyeball is increased. The resulting pressure on the retina causes, in the early stages, rainbow tints or halos around lights, especially at night. As the disease progresses, there may be headache and contraction of the field of vision. Glaucoma is the greatest single cause of blindness in persons who are past 50. The cause is an obstruction of the drainage of the inside of the eyeball. Causative factors include a hereditary tendency, hardening of the arteries and far-sightedness.

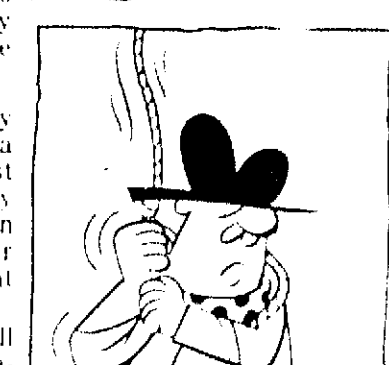

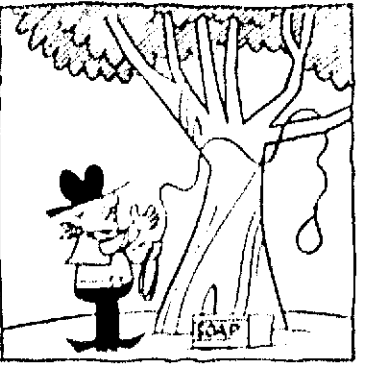

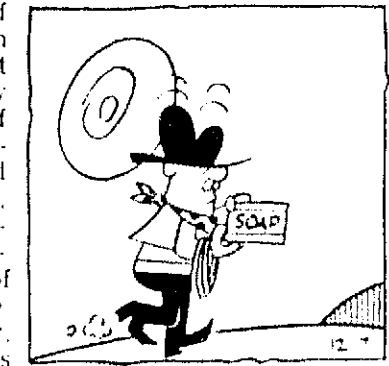

The first step in prevention is for persons over 50 to have the tension of the eyeball measured every two years or oftener. Warnings to victims of early glaucoma to avoid alcohol are no longer given. Alcohol may even decrease the tension provided the total fluid intake is not excessive, as would be the case if six bottles of beer were consumed in a brief period.

Restrictions on the use of tea and coffee have also been lifted as they do not affect the intraocular tension any more than the drinking of other fluids. Although no definitive studies on smoking and glaucoma have been made, many doctors believe smoking should be restricted because it causes contraction of the small arteries in the eye. Viewing television, however, is harmless unless it takes place in a room so poorly lighted that the pupils become dilated.

Q-About a year ago, my doctor said I had glaucoma in both eyes and that I must use eye drops the rest of my life. Is there any operation for glaucoma? The doctor says my vision is 20/40. What does that mean?

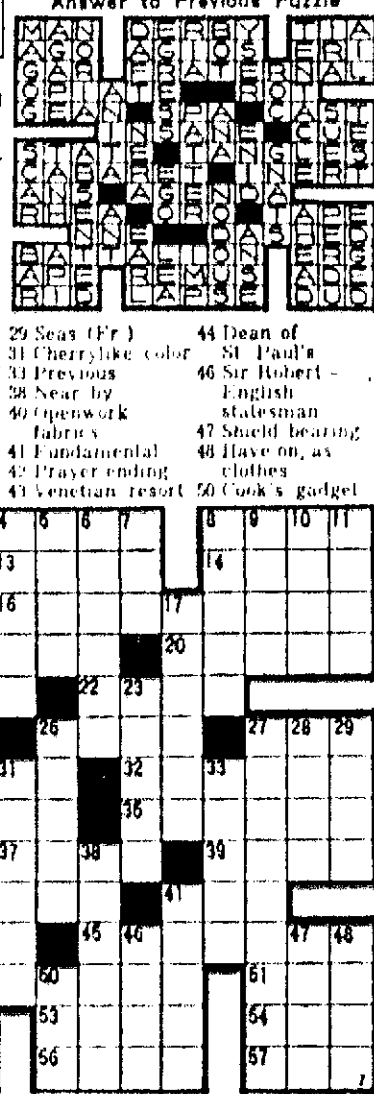

A-The removal of a small portion of the iris is an operation that benefits selected cases but, unfortunately, not the majority of persons over Twenty-six years ago today there weren't many portable radios, fewer still in automobiles, and home television was non-existent. Incredible as it might seem today, the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor caught the public flat-footed—several hours of broadcasting elapsing before the news sifted through to most citizens.

It was early Sunday afternoon (morning in Hawaii) and most of the local public were enjoying a pleasant day riding around in autos. I got the radio bulletins at home, grabbed a portable to keep up with the story, and came up town for a late Sunday dinner. Fellow diners heard the portable, but were unexcited.

It dawned on me that the public wasn't really getting the tragic message—on this fine Sunday afternoon back home.

So I decided on an extra edition of The Star. If you have ever tried to round up a newspaper crew on Sunday I should tell you that newspaper folks have a habit of dropping out of sight on week-ends—and our "extra" took some "managing."

But we did get a skeleton crew together in about an hour, and brought off a Pearl Harbor Extra in mid-afternoon. It delivered the message, shook the town—and sold 2,000 copies. Just for the record I made a photograph of that historic extra on the press—and it's reprinted 26 years later, today.

It was our last "extra." Universal radio and television have taken over the bulletin service formerly performed by newspapers. I recall seeing RCA's experimental TV sets perform at the New York World's Fair in 1939—but sets weren't sold to the public until several years later, and it was 15 years before telecasting reached our area.

The Arkansas Supreme Court yesterday freed State Police Director Lynn A. Davis without bond on the contempt-of-court jail sentence imposed by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby because of his refusal to answer questions put to him by the Pulaski County Grand Jury.

The high court merely responded to a habeas corpus petition by Col. Davis' attorney—it left to formal court proceedings the main issue: Whether a police officer can be compelled to disclose to a grand jury the confidential sources of information which enabled him to round up law-breakers.

This is a nettlesome question that has plagued police and press for generations—and it's time the judiciary came up with a solution that makes common sense.

"Contempt" charges proceeding out of grand juries which demand that law-enforcement officers and newspaper reporters disclose the names of confidential informants on crime are unrealistic.

Judge Kirby sentenced Col. Davis and said he would stay in jail until he talked. Col. Davis replied that if he gave away his confidential sources "the police would be out of business."

The police would be out of business, and similarly-accused newspapermen would be muzzled in the future.

It's a cold, hard fact—regardless what lawyers or the courts imagine correct procedure to be—that without trusted secret informants the police would be crippled in their enforcement of law and order.

Here's a gap in legal procedure which has got to be closed—the gap between ritualistic law and common-sense methods which police find universally necessary to maintain law and order.

Finally, the Pulaski County Grand Jury is on the shakiest ground imaginable in attempting to crucify Col. Davis. It stinks to high heaven of petty politics. Col. Davis was appointed by Gov. Rockefeller, a Republican—and appointment of the State Police Director has always been the sole responsibility of the Governor, regardless of his party affiliation.

Congress Delayed by Two Bills

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Only the possibility of last-minute disputes over antipoverty and foreign aid bills appears threatening plans to adjourn Congress by the end of next week.

A controversial meat inspection measure cleared both houses Wednesday and leaders expect action before adjournment on such major bills as Social Security benefit increases, hikes in postal rates and federal pay, and perhaps elementary and secondary education.

Left behind until next year in the drive for adjournment will be such bills as interest disclosure, higher education, crime prevention, civil rights and President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

In a move related to the tax proposal, Senate-House conferees finally agreed late Wednesday on a proposal aimed at cutting planned federal spending by some $4.1 billion this year. The spending cut is attached to a normally routine measure to keep agencies going which have not received their annual appropriations.

Rep. Frank F. Bow, R-Ohio, said he will try to increase the spending cut to $5.7 billion. Expected approval of the measure next week will mean an end to the threat of payless paydays for government workers in the Peace Corps, Agency for International Development and Office of Economic Opportunity.

Speaker John W. McCormack told a news conference Wednesday he thinks a Dec. 15 adjournment is possible, and Democratic Leader Carl Albert told applauding members later, "We are looking forward and hoping we will be able to adjourn the Congress late next week."

Ordeal of Husbands Is Finding What to Give Wife Christmas

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals for a husband is finding out what to give his wife for Christmas.

The rest of the year the average housewife is only too explicit in expressing her wants.

She wants the house painted or she wants the family to have a color television set or she wants a new giant-sized refrigerator or she wants a fur coat or she wants a new electric dishwasher that will also play music or she wants to take a vacation in Hawaii.

But at the approach of yuletide wives suddenly elect to be come mysterious as to their demands and wishes. They turn into coy martyrs.

"And what do you want Santa Claus to bring you, dear?" asks the husband, after blanching at the three-page list of presents their children have drawn up as the bare requirements for their continued existence.

"Oh, nothing—nothing at all," replies the wife.

U.S. Heart Transplant Fails, Child Lives 6½ Hours After Operation

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer
In a South African hospital bed this week, a 55-year-old grocer lived with the heart of a young woman beating to his breast. He hoped this strange heart would fool his body into believing it was his own.

Louis Washkansky existed with what can be described as a benevolent but vital infection. On this pivot his life turned.

His heart was that of 25-year-old Denise Ann Darvall, struck by an automobile and fatally injured.

Her heart was well, but she was dead. The heart of Washkansky was dying, but the rest of his body was well. Doctors in a five-hour operation transplanted her heart into Washkansky's body.

Three days later, on Wednesday, doctors attempted the operation at Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn, transplanting the heart from a dead baby into the breast of a 2½-week-old boy. The patient lived only 6½ hours.

"We do not know at this time why this transplanted heart failed," said Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, the chief surgeon.

Asked if he and his medical team are going to try again, he said: "We certainly are."

Despite the infant's death, the fact remains that in the case of Washkansky, 20th century medicine has brought mankind to this point: A transplant has been effected, and the patient lies in a Cape Town bed hoping his body will not recognize that his new heart is a foreign organ.

Human bodies are not easy to fool.

Washkansky's body has spent 55 years, from the time it was a

Dissenters Checked by Police

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Antiwar demonstrators, outnumbered and outmaneuvered by police in two attempts to disrupt the downtown armed forces induction center, say they have new tactics to try.

Leaders of the demonstration, in a meeting Wednesday night to assess their lack of success, blamed plainclothes police infiltrators in their ranks with sowing confusion and giving contradictory orders.

Spokesmen for the sponsoring Stop the Draft Week Committee said the new tactics today could include dividing the demonstrators into small groups and picketing any of 100 "targets" throughout the city related directly or indirectly to the draft.

Although the demonstrators Wednesday doubled their Tuesday turnout to 2,000 the police had increased their own forces to maintain about a 2 to 1 numerical edge and the resulting rows of bluecoats left the generally young marchers no place to go.

When their forays at the center were foiled some of the frustrated marchers took off on a four-mile trek uptown to the Waldorf Astoria hotel where Secretary of State Dean Rusk was speaking.

Later the group moved on to Grand Central terminal where they milled about chanting slogans and then to the United Nations headquarters on the East River. Police physically broke up the crowd there and the protest was finished for the day.

Elsewhere in the nation the pace of protests sagged after a flurry of activity early in the week. Some 300 demonstrators converged on the placement center at California State College at Los Angeles forcing Dow Chemical Co. recruiters to flee through a back window.

With red ink they daubed slogans on the administration building saying "Freedom Now" and "Hell No, Nobody Goes." College President John Greenlee blamed off-campus agitators but said participating students and faculty members would be disciplined.

Faubus Feels Out Chance Against WR

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—"Recent developments" in state government have made Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller vulnerable to a "good challenger," and that may turn out to be Orval Faubus, the former governor said here Wednesday night.

In an interview following his speech at a Chamber of Commerce banquet, Faubus said he was "giving some thought" to becoming a candidate next year.

Were his thoughts on the office in which he served 12 years?

"Well, that or the U.S. Senate or the U.S. House, but principally the governor's office," he said. "I think there is a good opportunity for a good challenger."

Faubus said "everyone might be a little off base" in sympathizing with State Police Director Lynn Davis, who was jailed Tuesday after being held in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions concerning the source of information that led to gambling raids in Little Rock Sept. 9.

"If I had been the judge, I would have cautioned the young man of the precedent he was setting of a police officer refusing to give information," Faubus said.

The six-term governor also applauded the Democratic party's controversial television series, "Info '68," which has been highly critical of Rockefeller.

He said he felt the program had merit, and that the "rank and file comment" he'd heard about it was favorable.

Class Rings Are Missing

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Members of the senior class at O'Fallon Technical High School were selecting class rings Wednesday in the auditorium when the lights went out.

In the confusion and shouting that followed, jeweler Les Monti told police that he noticed a chain containing his briefcase being pulled behind the curtain at the rear of the stage.

When the lights were turned on again, Monti told police the chair was found behind the curtain, but the briefcase was missing.

U.S. Admits Cong Peace Envoy Jailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department acknowledges an apparent Viet Cong attempt to contact the U.S. mission in Saigon. At the same time U.S. sources say privately the Viet Cong has been in recent touch with the U. N. secretariat in New York, City.

Robert J. McCloskey, department press officer, said Tuesday that Prime Minister Nguyen Van Loc of South Vietnam has informed Washington the Viet Cong representative arrested in Saigon last week was attempting to reach the U.S. Embassy.

Department officials have said privately the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) approached the U. N. Secretariat last October, apparently to ask for a U. N. hearing.

McCloskey said the only reason he made any statement on the Saigon incident was to clarify what he called misleading stories quoting Loc as saying "let Cong had already made preliminary contact with the embassy."

No information was released to pinpoint the identity of the Viet Cong agent, to detail what he told South Vietnamese police during interrogation sessions or to indicate the precise nature of the Viet Cong had already made preliminary contact with the embassy.

No information was released to pinpoint the identity of the Viet Cong agent, to detail what he told South Vietnamese police during interrogation sessions or to indicate the precise nature of his mission.

State Department officials also said they wouldn't comment on whether the United States is trying to find out from the Viet Cong what their representative wanted to talk about.

"We can go on trying to nail jelly to this tree all day," McCloskey said after many questions, "but I have no comment on this."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk also was asked about the Saigon incident and replied: "I do not have anything more on that than has been said and that is very little."

Court Leaves Main Issue Until Later

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State Police Director Lynn A. Davis got out of jail Wednesday and tightened the secrecy surrounding the alleged plot to assassinate Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The Arkansas Supreme Court voted 6-1 to free Davis, who was jailed Tuesday after being held in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions concerning the source of information that led to gambling raids here Sept. 9.

The high court agreed to release him without bond, pending a review of the proceedings when Davis appeared before Circuit Judge William J. Kirby. Davis had refused to tell Kirby and the Pulaski County grand jury the name of a confidential informant, contending that it would jeopardize his informant's life or property. The grand jury is investigating gambling.

The Supreme Court gave Davis' attorneys, furnished by Rockefeller, 10 days in which to file a brief explaining why the contempt citation should be quashed.

Shortly after his release, Davis was questioned about the purported plot against Rockefeller. He answered each query with a firm, "No comment."

Rockefeller confirmed at a news conference later in the day that he was aware of the alleged assassination plot and appeared ready to tell newsmen some details. He refrained after an aide cautioned him that Davis had declined comment.

Rockefeller had just been asked whether the purported plot had sprung from a recent crackdown on gambling.

It was learned from unofficial sources, but confirmed by no one in authority, that Zakar Carogogian, 34, a central figure in the investigation, had been approached by gambling interests who suggested sabotaging one of Rockefeller's four private planes.

Carogogian, identified as a drifter being held in connection with the robbery of a soft drink bottling firm at San Angelo, Tex., was missing from his cell Wednesday and his whereabouts were undisclosed.

The San Angelo Standard-Times, which published the first news on the investigation, reported that Carogogian had been quoted by "well informed sources" as saying that he had information about a plan to kill Rockefeller.

The millionaire Republican, a younger brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he had been told Sunday of the "basic facts" in the case.

Asked if he considered the alleged threat serious, he said, "The FBI is not inclined to goof half-cooked."

Fulbright Says People Feels Same Way

MEMPHIS (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Wednesday that he thought the majority of people in Arkansas feel much the same as he does about the Vietnam War.

Fulbright, speaking at the annual meeting of the Agricultural Council of Arkansas, criticized Secretary of State Dean Rusk as being out of touch with humanity.

"How Rusk can imagine that the Vietnamese love us, I can't imagine," Fulbright said. "He doesn't understand human nature. In my opinion, he only understands sophisticated political theory."

Fulbright said he would like the administration "to stop the slaughter" and halt intensification in Vietnam.

"That's a wish," he said. "I see nothing to justify prospects of ending the war soon."

WR Confirms Plot for Assassination

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller confirmed reports of an assassination plot against him Wednesday, but the man who touched off the reports had dropped out of sight. Zakari Carogian, 34, described as a drifter who was being held at San Angelo, Tex., in connection with a burglary there, wasn't in his cell, and no one would say where he was. Also missing at the jail were San Angelo Police Chief Melvin Jamis and State Police intelligence officers from Arkansas and Texas, who had been quizzing Carogian Tuesday. At least one of the Arkansas officers, Maj. Bill Stroubling of the State Police Criminal Investigation Division, had returned to Little Rock. There was speculation that Carogian might have been brought here for further questioning. State Police Director Lynn Davis denied that Wednesday afternoon, but he refused to comment on it later in the evening. Other possibilities were that Carogian was being given a lie detector test at Austin or Midland, Tex. Carogian's attorney, Jack Ray of San Angelo, said he assumed Carogian and James were together, but that he had been unable to locate either of them. A San Angelo source said the alleged plot first came to light a month ago, which is when Carogian was taken into custody. He is alleged to have told authorities that he had information about a plan to kill Rockefeller and to have given them details. As the details began to check out, authorities are said to have begun taking the threat seriously. They supposedly notified Rockefeller and Davis about a week ago. Rockefeller said at his news conference that he had been told the "basic facts" of the case Sunday. He appeared ready to go into details, but refrained after Tom Eisele, his legal aide, cautioned him that Davis had declined all comment. The governor had just been asked whether the purported plot had anything to do with his support of Davis' recent crackdown on gambling. It was learned from unofficial sources, but confirmed by no

Goldberg Is Considering Resigning

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER AP Special Correspondent WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg is considering resigning soon from his post as top U.S. representative at the United Nations. Goldberg has discussed his resignation with President Johnson and it is understood that Johnson is agreeable to his desires. But Goldberg has not submitted his resignation formally, according to information available here, and no time has been set by him and the President for him to leave his post. Goldberg spent Wednesday in one in authority, that Carogian had been approached by gambling interests who suggested sabotaging one of Rockefeller's four private planes. Asked whether he considered the threat serious, Rockefeller said, "The FBI is not inclined to go off half-cocked." That was the first time it had been revealed that the FBI was involved in the investigation. The FBI office in Little Rock said Tuesday night that it had no information about a plot to kill the governor. Asked if there had been similar threats since he took office last January, Rockefeller said, "Let me put it this way — It's the first 'serious' threat."

He said there had been another "serious" threat about five or six years ago. He said five men were involved, "four of whom were killed in gangland warfare." He said the fifth "turned on the ignition of his car, and a bomb in it blew off his legs." "I felt that threat ended there," he said.

Washington, attending a Cabinet meeting and conferring with administration officials. Afterward it was learned he had talked with the President on several occasions, going back some time, about ending his career at the U.N. Goldberg, 59, has been Johnson's ambassador to the world organization since July 1965. He has told friends he does not consider himself a career public official and is understood to have been interested in returning to the private practice of law, probably in New York. However, there has also been speculation he might be returned to the Supreme Court by the President when a vacancy develops there. Goldberg left the high court at the President's request to take the U.N. assignment following the death of Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson. He earlier served in the Cabinet of President John F. Kennedy as labor secretary, bringing to that job years of experience as a lawyer and negotiator in the labor field. Goldberg is known in government circles and at the U.M. as a "dove" on issues arising out of the Vietnam war and there have been reports from time to time he was dissatisfied with administration handling of war policy problems. On several occasions Goldberg has been the spokesman for U.S. statements defining Vietnam war and peace aims and calling on North Vietnam to negotiate. Recently, in congressional testimony, he announced the United States is prepared to have representatives of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong in South Vietnam, invited to attend U.N. Security Council discussions of peace-making problems.

Red Routes in Thai, Laos Are Bombed By BOB HORTON AP Military Writer EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — U.S. planes are now bombing Communist infiltration routes into Thailand from Laos, military sources report. These same sources say: — The Communists have sought to counter the raids by positioning antiaircraft guns and surface-to-air missiles in the extreme northeastern corner of Thailand. — Some American planes have been shot down over Thailand although there has been no official statement on the losses. These disclosures, made Wednesday by officers here, appear to indicate a worsening insurgency situation for the Thais, confronted more and more with Communist penetration of their borders. The problem has required some American actions similar to early U.S. efforts in South Vietnam, officers said. He declined to be specific but said the actions involve U.S. air commandos in Thailand. Eglin AFB is a major Air Force Tactical Command facility where air commandos—Air Force counterparts to the Army's Green Berets special forces—are trained. Earlier last year the Pentagon acknowledged U.S.-flown helicopters were being used to ferry Thai troops into the northeast section for counterinsurgency operations. But the Pentagon said then that U.S. pilots were under strict orders to avoid involvement in combat and would be replaced as soon as enough Thai chopper pilots had been trained. The United States has undertaken a major buildup in Thailand the last few years with total American strength now exceeding 35,000 men, including some 1,000 air commandos. The commandos help train Thais in counterinsurgency operations. Earlier this year both the U.S. and Thai governments acknowledged for the first time that many American air attacks on enemy supply lines and positions in South Vietnam were originating from Thailand bases. Nothing was said about bombing inside Thailand. Since then, B-52 bombers have been moved from Guam to Thailand to cut flying time to targets in South Vietnam as well as Laos. The Air Force is reserving the B-52s for the bigger operations in Vietnam and is sending World War II-vintage B-26s—now designated A-26—on the Thai bombing runs. Officers here say U.S. pilots—not Thais—are piloting the bombing flights along the northeastern border of the country. They indicated the raids have been under way some time using A-26s supplied to Thailand last year.

UN Expected to Launch Peace Move By TOM HOGE Associated Press Writer UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is expected to call for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council soon to launch new attempts toward a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam war, informed sources said today. The sources predicted U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg would relay a request from the White House for a meeting of the 15-nation council some time this month. A U.S. informant said he assumed that "my boss might come back from Washington with some further information on the timing of the council session." Goldberg spent Wednesday in Washington for a Cabinet meeting, and it was generally believed that he discussed the Senate resolution adopted last week asking President Johnson put the war before the United Nations. There was speculation that further U.S. action may have been delayed by differences which have arisen with Saigon over participation of the Communist Viet Cong in any council debate on Vietnam. The split came into the open after it was learned that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front had expressed a desire in October to send representatives to the United Nations. A State Department spokesman referred inquiring newsmen to Goldberg's statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Nov. 2. Goldberg said the United States would vote in favor of the Viet Cong participating in a council meeting on the war. Ambassador Nguyen Huu-Chi, South Vietnam's observer at the United Nations, called on Secretary-General U Thant when he heard of the Viet Cong approach and asserted that his government would object to a "propaganda" visit here by the Viet Cong. The South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said earlier that Saigon would "refuse to accept the presence of the National Liberation Front as a separate delegation in any peace talk." Saigon said the Viet Cong was a creation of the Hanoi government and the United Nations should "forbid the Communists the use of its tribune for such purposes as the propagation of their international schemes."

Reds Give Priority to Food Ships, May Feel Pinch Caused by War

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Food ships are getting first priority in unloading at North Vietnam's key port of Haiphong, U.S. sources say, fueling speculation the Communist country is feeling the pinch of food scarcity brought on by war.

Intelligence reports say the North Vietnamese rice harvest has been poor for two years and that the food situation may have worsened.

Intensified U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam roads apparently disrupted this year's rice harvest, the sources said.

"They are not starving," said one expert. "But normally they are on close to a subsistence level, and if their food stocks are cut from 10 to 20 per cent, they really have to tighten their belts."

Reports indicate petroleum products make up the largest volume of nonmilitary goods entering North Vietnam through Haiphong. But the unloading of gasoline and oil has rated second to the discharge of cargo ships carrying goods.

Authorities declined to say how this intelligence was gathered.

Since last January, Soviet vessels have been hauling increasing amounts of wheat and flour from Vladivostok in Siberia to North Vietnam. And Communist Chinese ships have been carrying rice to Haiphong, sources said.

Priority cargo is being unloaded within a week, it was indicated. Some food ships have been discharged in as little as five days compared with as many as nine days several months ago.

During September, the most recent month for which statistics are available, 25 ships anchored in Haiphong harbor. Eight were Soviet vessels, eight were Communist Chinese, two were from European Communist bloc countries and seven were Hong Kong-registered vessels flying the British flag.

The September ship total at Haiphong compared with 22 vessels in both August and July, 34 in June, 39 in May and 36 in April.

American sources reported there is evidence the North Vietnamese are relying more on inland waterways to carry supplies because the road network and bridges have been hampered by U.S. warplanes.

It was said the North Vietnamese have been deepening rivers and canals by dredging

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That notorious opponent of the establishment, W. C. Fields, appears to be the latest screen immortal to be embraced by the new generation of film goers.

It's still not certain whether the rediscovery of Fields was entirely spontaneous or was inspired by the alert salesmen of Universal Pictures. The company made some test engagements of Fields comedies in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Detroit in late summer, and was encouraged to launch a full-scale campaign.

Such films as "Bank Dick," "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," "My Little Chickadee" and "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break" have been playing in two New York Theaters and two in Los Angeles. Now Universal is planning a nationwide release, aiming primarily at college communities.

Apparently colleagues do have an affinity for Fields. What is the source of his appeal, aside from the fact that he was a very funny man?

"He was one of the great put-ons of all time," theorized a Universal executive. "No one did a better job of laughing at the establishment."

That seems to be an important factor in film merchandizing nowadays: to capitalize on the youthful revolt against those who hold the power. Robert Aldrich ascribed that element as the principal reason for the amazing success of his "Dirty Dozen."

It is true that the Fields comedies pictured him at odds with the authorities. He was the master of the shell game, a man who would sell a talking dog in a saloon, only to have the dog refuse to talk afterward. Always Fields was one step ahead of the sheriff. Even in his own attempt at the classic, "David Copperfield," he played the debt-ridden Micawber.

Fields relationships with the opposite sex took two forms. He was plagued by a battle ax of a wife, E. G., Kathleen Howard in "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," whose rantings he accepted with an unhearing "yes, dear, yes, dear." Or else he was the florid wooer of the rich widow, as with Jan Duggan in "The Old-Fashioned Way." I can still recall his fingering of her curls, only to have one come off in his hand.

Pool shark, con man, drummer with a different march, Fields was always at odds with organized society.

Lynda Bird

On Dec. 9, Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of the President, is scheduled to be married to Marine Capt. Charles Robb. It will be the first wedding in the White House in a half-century and the second for the Johnsons since August, 1966, when Luci married Pat Nugent in a church ceremony. It is interesting to see, in photos, the emergence of Lynda Bird from the 1962 wide-eyed schoolgirl, left above, to the sophisticated charmer, above right, who attended last year's Academy Awards ceremony in California.

Hair cropped close, Lynda Bird, above, faced the camera in 1963 at a party in her Washington home. Her father was then vice president.

Smiling Lynda seemed a plain, but pleasant, teenager, right, in this 1961 photo taken prior to her father's becoming vice president.

In veil and gown, right, Lynda was maid of honor for sister Luci's wedding last year. Next week, Luci will return the favor and be matron of honor when her sister is married in a White House ceremony.

WIN AT BRIDGE

South's Study Is Too Brief

By Oswald and James Jacoby

There is no bonus for playing too fast, and the higher the contract the more desirable it should be to stop and work out your best line of play.

The game was rubber bridge and East was faced with quite a problem at his first turn to bid. Should he sacrifice at six spades, or should he hope to beat the diamond slam? Eventually, East decided to try for a plus and passed.

West thought of doubling but came to the conclusion that his ace and king of spades weren't guaranteed tricks. He was quite happy that he hadn't doubled when he saw the dummy.

South looked over dummy for all of one second. Then he ruffed the spade, led the queen of diamonds, drew trumps, lost the club finesse and a spade trick when East took his king of clubs and led back a spade.

South asked, "Could I have made the hand and was my play correct?" The answer to the first question is "Yes" and to the second "No."

South's line of play based his chance of success on the location of the king of clubs. The correct line of play would make the hand irrespective of the location of the king of clubs, provided nothing broke too badly.

At trick two South should have led dummy's ace of clubs and continued with another East would be in with his king but would be unable to do anything about getting a second trick for his side. If East had held three clubs to the king he might well duck the second club on the theory that South, not West, started with the club singleton. If he did go up and did lead a third club, South would have to decide about how to play the diamonds. If West held the three clubs to the king, South would not have been worried at all.
